Zoom meeting

Attendance:

Haide Lefebvre
Silvana Santinelli
Ruth Fleming
Vanessa Felhauer
Debi Strick
Sonia Tressler

Haide started by reminding us that piano Center of the Rockies is closing. Bruce Mihalek is still letting us use the facilities and we need to pay him $150. We continued talking about the facilities and what and the seating availability. Bruce only has a few chairs, therefore, we need to bring some. Bruce does not have a limit regarding how many people can be in the room. Haide is suggesting to start asking students how many people they will be bringing. Among all of us we can provide a total of 15 chairs for the festival.

The whole festival will start at 11am on Sunday February 27th at Piano Center of the Rockies. Each teacher will organize their own studio depending on the size of their group. For the Saturday event, we are not allowed to provide lunch. Sonia reminded us about the jobs the members had committed on doing. Some changes needed to be done due to some new rehearsals that Silvana scheduled.

Haide talked about the Festival being held at Front Range Community College. Jessie is the name of the person that will help us set up and unlock the building. We have a few tables and chairs that we can use, but there are more if we need them. She reminded us to tell the students 18 and older to bring a vaccination card or a negative test 72 hours. For Sunday there is no regulation, we will go with the comfort level of each studio.

Debi suggested to bring extra masks. She will also bring sanitizer. We went ahead and talked about the online submissions.

We all talked about theory tests and how teachers will grade their own students. Initials will be in the back of the kid's judging sheet. Judging sheets will go in a folder to Sonia on Saturday and on Sunday each teacher will email Sonia the results. Haide will contact Jessie regarding lunch and what to tell the judges to do.

The name of the building at FRCC is Red Cloud. There is a map on the website where we can download directions. Parking is available all around FRCC. Regarding the judge's sheet, we all agreed on using the old ones.
